2010 Mid-Year Meeting and JATA Conference
DENVER
February 19 & 20, 2010

The Westin Tabor Center
1672 Lawrence Street
Denver, Colorado 80202

We would like to thank our 2010 sponsors:

Platinum Sponsors:
Ernst & Young LLP
The KPMG Foundation
PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP

Gold Sponsor:
Grant Thornton LLP

Silver Sponsor:
Deloitte LLP

Welcome to Denver, CO and the 22nd Annual ATA Mid-Year Meeting.

We appreciate our Platinum sponsors E&Y, KPMG and PwC, Gold sponsor Grant Thornton and Silver sponsor Deloitte. We have representatives from all these firms at the meeting – please help me thank them personally.

Sue Porter and her committee have put together a fantastic program with star quality! KPMG’s Washington National partner Scott Salmon will speak on Current Issues in State and Local Taxation. Former IRS Commissioner and now E&Y partner Deborah Nolan will discuss Tax Administration without Borders. Our own John Barrick, formerly of JCT, will moderate our Legislative Update with Tom Neubig (E&Y), Lindy Paull (PwC), Gillian Spooner (KPMG) and Clint Stretch (Deloitte) to reprise our favorite session from last year. Finally, TEI president Neil Traubenberg is our Saturday luncheon speaker.

This year the ATA lost a loyal friend when Marty Escoffier, husband of Shirley Dennis-Escoffier, passed away this fall. As a hospitality professor with deep knowledge and connections in the hotel industry, Marty made our ATA meetings run smoothly behind the scenes, and we miss his friendly charm and selfless efforts tremendously. We will honor him during our Friday luncheon.

We extend special thanks to KPMG for their continued support of the doctoral consortium, which precedes this meeting. This year we welcome 36 doctoral students to the consortium, and I appreciate Jennifer Blouin, chair, continuing this excellent tradition. I would also like to thank the Ernst & Young Foundation, which has provided travel funds for the doctoral students to attend the consortium. Please make all our doctoral students and new faculty feel welcome in the ATA.

Richard Sansing (JATA editor) and our various legal and research committees received record submissions this year, so they made tough choices among excellent papers. I hope you will also go out of your way to welcome three early-career public finance economists in a special session – Jesse Edgerton (FRB), Michael Lovenheim (Cornell) and M. Marit Rehavi (Michigan).

In our concurrent teaching sessions, this year’s ATA/Deloitte Teaching Innovation award winner – Zite Hutton -- will present “Tax Court in the Classroom.” Also, Mindy Malbasa, who is Grant Thornton’s national learning leader for U.S. tax professionals, will join us and participate in the hands-on session “Technology to enhance teaching,” so please introduce yourself to her.

Denver is a great city to visit, and I hope some of you were able to arrive early or stay late for skiing and other leisure. Thank you for continuing to make the ATA the premier section of the American Accounting Association.

Lillian Mills, ATA President

What to See and Do in Denver

Denver, the mile high city, has a number of diverse activities for you to enjoy. There are hundreds of museums and galleries that make Denver the “Arts Capital of the West”. Museums include the Art Museum, the Denver Museum of Nature and Science, the Botanic Garden and the Denver Zoo. Denver receives more than 300 days of sunshine a year -- more annual hours of sun than San Diego or Miami Beach so there is a good chance there will be a sunny day to enjoy a stroll around the city. There are a number of nice restaurants and shops to enjoy. In addition, Denver brews more beer than any other American city and is often referred to as the “Napa Valley for Beer.” The hotel is located in downtown Denver and is within walking distance to the 16th Street Pedestrian Mall, which offers many shops, restaurants, and nightly entertainment.

The 17th Journal of the American Taxation Association Conference will be held in conjunction with the ATA’s Midyear Meeting in Washington, D.C., on March 4-5, 2011. Original papers addressing interesting and relevant tax issues will be considered for the conference. Papers submitted to the conference will not automatically be considered for publication in JATA. All research methods (including, but not limited to, archival, analytical, behavioral, experimental, and field studies) will be considered. Contingent on suitable revisions in accordance with JATA’s normal review procedures, papers submitted to JATA and accepted for the conference will be published in a regular issue of the journal, along with discussants’ comments. Conference papers will be made available to conference participants in advance of the midyear meeting through the ATA web site. Papers submitted to JATA but not accepted for the conference will be treated as regular submissions to JATA. Authors will be notified of the conference selection decision by December 3, 2010.
